Introduction

This directory serves as a comprehensive resource guide for individuals seeking essential services in Goa, particularly survivors of gender-based violence (GBV). It is thoughtfully designed to assist not only survivors but also their families, support networks, and professionals who work tirelessly in this space. This includes social workers, law enforcement personnel, healthcare providers, legal advocates, and other key stakeholders dedicated to supporting survivors and addressing GBV.

Within this directory, you will find a carefully curated list of critical services and contact details, including government hospitals, legal aid providers, police stations, shelter homes, drug rehabilitation centers, NGOs, mental health facilities, counselling services, and emergency helplines across Goa. By consolidating this essential information in one place, this resource aims to simplify access to support systems and empower those in need to seek help.

Survivors of gender-based violence often face overwhelming challenges when trying to navigate support services. Many struggle to find the right assistance at the right time, which can lead to further distress and vulnerability. This directory is an effort to bridge this gap by providing a reliable, easy-to-access, and up-to-date list of key services that can offer protection, guidance, and rehabilitation.

By making this resource available, we hope to foster a safer, more informed, and more supportive environment for survivors and those working to assist them.

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to UN Women India for their support in this project. We also wish to acknowledge and sincerely appreciate the contributions of Auda Viegas, who has supported CEHAT in compiling this directory.

The information in this directory is dynamic and subject to change. The compiled details reflect the information as given in March, 2025.

CENTRE FOR ENQUIRY INTO HEALTH AND ALLIED THEMES

CEHAT is the research centre of Anusandhan Trust, conducting research, action, service, welfare and advocacy on a variety of public health issues. Socially relevant and rigorous academic health research and action at CEHAT is for the well-being of the disadvantaged masses, for strengthening people's health movements and for realising the right to health care. CEHAT's objectives are to undertake socially relevant research and advocacy projects on various socio-political aspects of health; establish direct services and programmes to demonstrate how health services can be made accessible equitably and ethically; disseminate information through database and relevant publications, supported by a well-stocked and specialised library and a documentation centre.

CEHAT's projects are based on its ideological commitments and priorities, and are focused on four broad themes, (1) Health Services and Financing (2) Health Legislation, and Patients' Rights, (3) Women and Health, (4) Violence and Health.
